DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 24-29, drawn to methods for manufacturing metal slurries and ingots from a magnesium alloy to generate crystals.

Group II, claim(s) 30-34, drawn to systems for production of metal plates and ingots.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: claims 30-34 are either obvious over or anticipated by US 6,769,473, upon disclosing the claimed structural features of a melting furnace, (tilted) cooling body, vibrating mechanism, mold, and mold cooling mechanism, with the claimed structural features to form crystals from magnesium alloy as an intended use of the system, but are specific to the method claims. Accordingly, the special technical features linking the two inventions, the (tilted) cooling body and vibrating mechanism, do not provide a contribution over the prior art, and no single general inventive concept exists. Therefore, restriction is appropriate.

Art Unit: 1793

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic inventions. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Ia. claim 24, drawn to a method for manufacturing a metal slurry in a partly molten state by using a tilted cooling body.

Ib. claim 25, drawn to a method for manufacturing a metal slurry in a molten state by using a cooling body.

Ic. claims 26-29, drawn to methods for manufacturing ingots by introducing molten magnesium alloy into a cooled mold.

Ila. claim 30, drawn to a system that includes a tilted cooling body and a cooled mold for production of an ingot (in the mold).

Ilb. claim 31, drawn to a system that includes a tilted cooling body for production of a metal plate from a metal slurry (but without a mold).

Ilc. claims 32-34, drawn to systems that include a cooled mold (but without a tilted cooling body) for production of ingots.

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above, and the species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the reasons set forth in above section 2 and in the above descriptions of claimed features within species Ia-Ic and Ila-Ilc.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a). Currently, no claims are generic.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
